4 BE IT ENACTED by the Senate and General Assembly of the State
5 of New Jersey:

6
7 1. a. Before any horse may be sold at an auction, the auction
8 organizer shall determine whether the horse has an implanted
9 microchip or has been tattooed or branded with any identifying
10 mark. If the horse has an implanted microchip, tattoo, or brand, the 11 auction organizer shall post, on its Internet website, all identifying 12 information, including any identification number contained in the 13 microchip and a detailed description or picture of any tattoo or 14 brand found on the horse.

15 b. No horse shall be offered for sale at an auction before 72
16 hours have elapsed following posting of the horse's identifying
17 information on the auction organizer's Internet website.

18 c. For a minimum of one year following the date of sale, for 19 each horse sold at auction, an auction organizer shall maintain
20 appropriate records which accurately document compliance with 21 this section, including:

- 22 (1) the presence or absence of a microchip, tattoo, or brand;
23 (2) the date and time of the posting of the information required
24 by this section; and
25 (3) the date and time each horse was sold at auction.

26 d. Any person who violates this section shall be subject to a
27 civil penalty up to $200 for the first offense and up to $500 for the 28 second and each subsequent offense, to be collected in a civil action
29 by a summary proceeding under the "Penalty Enforcement Law of 30 1999," P.L.1999, c.274 (C.2A:58-10 et seq.).

ASSEMBLY AGRICULTURE AND NATURAL RESOURCES
COMMITTEE

STATEMENT TO

SENATE, No. 455

STATE OF NEW JERSEY

DATED: JANUARY 24, 2019

The Assembly Agriculture and Natural Resources Committee reports favorably Senate Bill No. 455.

This bill requires that, before any horse may be sold at an auction, the auction organizer is to determine whether the horse has an implanted microchip, or has been tattooed or branded with any identifying mark. If the horse has an implanted microchip, tattoo, or brand, the auction organizer is required to post, on its Internet website, all identifying information, including any identification number contained in the microchip, and a detailed description or picture of any tattoo or brand found on the horse. This information is required to be posted no later than 72 hours before the horse is sold at an auction.

To document compliance with the provisions of this bill, auction organizers would be required to maintain records for each horse sold at auction, including:

- 1) the presence or absence of a microchip, tattoo, or brand;
- 2) the date and time of the posting of the information required by the bill; and
- 3) the date and time each horse was sold at auction.

An auction organizer would be required to maintain these records for a minimum of one year following the date of sale.

Any person found to be in violation of this bill is subject to a civil penalty of up to $200 for a first offense and up to $500 for a second and each subsequent offense.

As reported by the committee, this bill is identical to Assembly Bill No. 3673, as also reported by the committee.

SENATE ECONOMIC GROWTH COMMITTEE

SENATE, No. 455

STATE OF NEW JERSEY

DATED: JUNE 14, 2018

The Senate Economic Growth Committee reports favorably Senate Bill No. 455.

As reported, this bill requires that, before any horse may be sold at an auction, the auction organizer is to determine whether the horse has an implanted microchip, or has been tattooed or branded with any identifying mark. If the horse has an implanted microchip, tattoo, or brand, the auction organizer is required to post, on its Internet website, all identifying information, including any identification number contained in the microchip, and a detailed description or picture of any tattoo or brand found on the horse. This information is required to be posted no later than 72 hours before the horse is sold at an auction.

To document compliance with the provisions of the bill, auction organizers are required to maintain records for each horse sold at auction, including: the presence or absence of a microchip, tattoo, or brand; the date and time of the posting of the information required by the bill; and the date and time each horse is sold at auction. An auction organizer is required to maintain these records for a minimum of one year following the date of sale.

Any person found to be in violation of this bill is subject to a civil penalty of up to $200 for a first offense and up to $500 for a second and each subsequent offense.

This bill was pre-filed for introduction in the 2018-2019 session pending technical review. As reported, the bill includes the changes required by technical review, which has been performed.
