21 follows:

22 2. Each principal department shall be under the supervision of the 23 Governor. The head of each principal department shall be a single 24 executive unless otherwise provided by law. Such single executives 25 shall be nominated and appointed by the Governor, with the advice and 26 consent of the Senate, to serve at the pleasure of the Governor during 27 [his] the Governor's term of office and until the appointment and 28 qualification of their successors, except as herein otherwise provided 29 with respect to the Secretary of State and the Attorney General. The 30 Governor may appoint the Lieutenant Governor to serve as the head 31 of a principal department, without the advice and consent of the

34 (cf: Art.V, Sec.IV, para.2)

35 3. The Secretary of State and the Attorney General shall be 42 of a principal department, the members thereof shall be nominated and 43 appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate, 44 and may be removed in the manner provided by law. The Governor 45 may appoint the Lieutenant Governor thereto without the advice and 46 consent of the Senate. Such a board, commission or other body may 1 appoint a principal executive officer when authorized by law, but the 2 appointment shall be subject to the approval of the Governor. Any 3 principal executive officer so appointed shall be removable by the 4 Governor, upon notice and an opportunity to be heard.

5 (cf: Art.V, Sec.IV, para.4)

7 e. Amend Article XI by the addition of a new Section VII to read 8 as follows:

9 In the event of a vacancy in the office of Governor resulting from 10 the death, resignation or removal of a Governor in office, or the death 11 of a Governor-elect, or from any other cause, occurring prior to noon 12 on January 19, 2010, the President of the Senate shall become 13 Governor until a new Governor or Lieutenant Governor is elected and 14 qualifies, and in the event of the Senate President's death, resignation 15 or removal prior to becoming Governor, or if the Senate President 16 declines to become Governor, then the Speaker of the General 17 Assembly shall become Governor until a new Governor or Lieutenant 18 Governor is elected and qualifies, and in the event of the Speaker's 19 death, resignation or removal prior to becoming Governor, or if the 20 Speaker declines to become Governor, then the functions, powers, 21 duties and emoluments of the office shall devolve for the time being 22 upon such officers and in such order of succession as may be provided 23 by law until a new Governor or Lieutenant Governor is elected and 24 qualifies. When the President or Speaker becomes Governor pursuant 25 to this section, the President's or Speaker's seat in the Legislature and 26 leadership position shall become vacant.

27 In the event of a vacancy in the office of Governor occurring prior 28 to noon on January 19, 2010, a Governor shall be elected to fill the 29 unexpired term at the general election next succeeding the vacancy, 30 unless the vacancy shall occur within sixty days immediately preceding 31 a general election, in which case the Governor shall be elected at the 32 second succeeding general election; but no election to fill an unexpired 33 term shall be held in calendar year 2009. A Governor elected for an 34 unexpired term shall assume office immediately upon election.

35 Until noon on January 19, 2010, in the event of the failure of the 36 Governor-elect to qualify, or of the absence from the State of a 37 Governor in office, or the Governor's inability to discharge the duties 38 of the office, or the Governor's impeachment, the functions, powers, 39 duties and emoluments of the office shall devolve upon the President 40 of the Senate, for the time being; and in the event of the Senate 41 President's death, resignation, removal, absence, inability or 42 impeachment, then upon the Speaker of the General Assembly, for the 43 time being; and in the event of the Speaker's death, resignation, 44 removal, absence, inability or impeachment, then upon such officers 45 and in such order of succession as may be provided by law; until the 46 Governor-elect qualifies, or the Governor in office returns to the

1 State, or is no longer unable to discharge the duties of the office, or 2 is acquitted, as the case may be, or until a new Governor or Lieutenant 3 Governor is elected and qualifies.

4 If the President of the Senate is to become Governor or acting 5 Governor pursuant to this section but the Senate has elected more than 6 one President, only one of whom is of the same political party as the 7 Governor, the President who is of that same political party shall 8 become Governor or acting Governor, as appropriate.

9 If the Speaker of the General Assembly is to become Governor or 10 acting Governor pursuant to this section but the General Assembly has 11 elected more than one Speaker, only one of whom is of the same 12 political party as the Governor, the Speaker who is of that same 13 political party shall become Governor or acting Governor, as 14 appropriate.

16 2. When this proposed amendment to the Constitution is finally 17 agreed to pursuant to Article IX, paragraph 1 of the Constitution, it 18 shall be submitted to the people at the next general election occurring 19 more than three months after the final agreement and shall be 20 published at least once in at least one newspaper of each county 21 designated by the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the General 22 Assembly and the Attorney General, not less than three months prior 23 to the general election.

24

25 3. This proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be submitted 26 to the people at that election in the following manner and form:

27 There shall be printed on each official ballot to be used at the 28 general election, the following:

29 a. In every municipality in which voting machines are not used, a 30 legend which shall immediately precede the question, as follows:

31 If you favor the proposition printed below make a cross (X), plus 32 (+), or check (T) in the square opposite the word "Yes." If you are 33 opposed thereto make a cross (X), plus (+) or check (T) in the square 34 opposite the word "No."

35 b. In every municipality the following question:

1		CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO
2		ESTABLISH THE OFFICE OF
3		LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR
4		Shall the amendment of Articles II, IV, V and
5		XI of the Constitution, agreed to by the
6		Legislature, establishing the office of
7		Lieutenant Governor, and providing for the
8	YES	term, election, succession, salary,
9		qualifications, and duties of the office, and for 10		an interim succession to be employed in the 11		event of a vacancy in the office of the 12		Governor before the election of the first
13		Lieutenant Governor, be adopted?
14		INTERPRETIVE STATEMENT
15		Approval of this amendment would establish
16		the office of Lieutenant Governor.
17		Candidates for the offices of Governor and
18		Lieutenant Governor would be elected as joint
19		candidates in the general election. The
20		Lieutenant Governor would serve as acting
21		Governor during brief periods when the
22		Governor is absent from the State or unable
23		to serve and would become Governor in the 24		event of a vacancy in the office of Governor.
25		The Lieutenant Governor would perform
26		other duties as assigned by the Governor or 27	NO	by law. The first Lieutenant Governor would
28		be elected at the general election held in 2009.
29		In the event of a permanent vacancy in the 30		office of the Governor occurring before the
31		inauguration date of the first Lieutenant
32		Governor, the President of the Senate,
33		followed by the Speaker of the General
34		Assembly, would become Governor, rather
35		than acting Governor. A vacancy would be
36		created in the Legislature if the Senate
37		President or Assembly Speaker becomes
38		Governor, to be filled in the manner currently
39		provided by the Constitution.

9 establish the Office of Lieutenant Governor and revise gubernatorial 10 succession. The Lieutenant Governor would serve a four-year term 11 concurrent with the term of the Governor. Like the Governor, the 12 Lieutenant Governor would have to be at least 30 years of age, a 13 citizen of the United States for at least 20 years and a resident of the 14 State for at least seven years leading up to the election (unless he or 15 she was absent during that time on the public business of the United 16 States or the State). In addition, the Lieutenant Governor would be 17 subject to the prohibitions against dual office holding that currently 18 apply to the Governor. Under the current language of the 19 constitution, no person holding any paid public position under the 20 State or the United States, including but not limited to political 21 subdivisions of the State (counties, municipalities, school districts or 22 fire districts) or any agency or instrumentality of the State or a 23 political subdivision of the State (independent State or local 24 authorities, for example) or any bi-state agency to which New Jersey 25 is a party, can be Governor, and if the Governor accepts any such 26 office or position, the office of Governor is thereby vacated.

27 Each candidate nominated for Governor would select a candidate
28 for Lieutenant Governor and they would be elected as joint candidates 29 in the following general election. The first Lieutenant Governor would 30 be elected at the general election in 2009.

31 The Lieutenant Governor would serve as acting Governor during 32 brief periods when the Governor is absent from the State or unable to 33 serve and would become Governor in the event of a vacancy in the 34 office of Governor. In the event of simultaneous vacancies in both the 35 office of Governor and Lieutenant Governor, or in the event of a 36 permanent vacancy in the office of Governor occurring before the 37 inauguration date of the first Lieutenant Governor (January 19, 2010)
38 the Senate President would become Governor until a new Governor 39 and Lieutenant Governor are elected and qualify. If there is no Senate 40 President or the Senate President declines, the Speaker of the General 41 Assembly will become Governor. In these events, the Senate 42 President, or the Speaker as the case may be, will resign from the 43 Legislature and a legislative vacancy will exist to be filled as provided 44 currently in the Constitution.

ASSEMBLY CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 100

STATE OF NEW JERSEY

DATED: JANUARY 13, 2005

The Assembly State Government Committee reports favorably Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 100.

This concurrent resolution proposes a constitutional amendment to establish the Office of Lieutenant Governor and revise gubernatorial succession. The Lieutenant Governor would serve a four-year term concurrent with the term of the Governor. Each candidate nominated for Governor would select a candidate for Lieutenant Governor and they would be elected as joint candidates in the following general election. The first Lieutenant Governor would be elected at the general election in 2009.

The resolution provides that, like the Governor, the Lieutenant Governor would have to be at least 30 years of age, a citizen of the United States for at least 20 years and a resident of the State for at least seven years leading up to the election (unless he or she was absent during that time on the public business of the United States or the State). In addition, the Lieutenant Governor would be subject to the prohibitions against holding two offices that apply to the Governor. The New Jersey Constitution currently provides that no person holding any paid public position under the State or the United States, including but not limited to political subdivisions of the State (counties, municipalities, school districts, authorities or fire districts) or any agency or instrumentality of the State or any bi-state agency to which New Jersey is a party, can be Governor; if the Governor accepts any such office or position, the office of Governor is thereby vacated.

The Lieutenant Governor would serve as acting Governor during brief periods when the Governor is absent from the State or unable to serve and would become Governor in the event of a vacancy in the office of Governor. In the event of simultaneous vacancies in both the office of Governor and Lieutenant Governor, or in the event of a permanent vacancy in the office of Governor occurring before the inauguration date of the first Lieutenant Governor (January 19, 2010), the Senate President would become Governor until a new Governor and Lieutenant Governor are elected and qualify. If there is no Senate President or the Senate President declines, the Speaker of the General Assembly will become Governor. When the Senate President or the Speaker, as the case may be, becomes Governor, the President's or Speaker's seat in the Legislature and leadership position will become vacant, to be filled as provided currently in the Constitution.

The Governor could appoint, without the advice and consent of the Senate, the Lieutenant Governor to serve as the head of a State department or agency but not as Attorney General. The Lieutenant Governor would also perform other duties as assigned by the Governor or by statute.

STATEMENT TO

STATE OF NEW JERSEY

The Assembly Appropriations Committee reports favorably Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 100.

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 100 proposes an amendment to the New Jersey Constitution to establish the Office of Lieutenant Governor and revise gubernatorial succession. Under the proposed amendment the Lieutenant Governor will serve a four-year term concurrent with the term of the Governor. Each candidate nominated for Governor will select a candidate for Lieutenant Governor and they will be elected as joint candidates in the following general election. The first Lieutenant Governor will be elected at the general election in 2009.

This amendment to the Constitution provides that, like the Governor, the Lieutenant Governor will have to be at least 30 years of age, a citizen of the United States for at least 20 years and a resident of the State for at least seven years leading up to the election (unless he or she was absent during that time on the public business of the United States or the State). In addition, the Lieutenant Governor will be subject to the prohibitions against holding two offices that apply to the Governor. The New Jersey Constitution currently provides that no person holding any paid public position under the State or the United States, including but not limited to political subdivisions of the State (counties, municipalities, school districts, authorities or fire districts) or any agency or instrumentality of the State or any bi-state agency to which New Jersey is a party, can be Governor; if the Governor accepts any such office or position, the office of Governor is thereby vacated.

The Lieutenant Governor will serve as acting Governor during brief periods when the Governor is absent from the State or unable to serve and will become Governor in the event of a vacancy in the office of Governor. In the event of simultaneous vacancies in both the office of Governor and Lieutenant Governor, or in the event of a permanent vacancy in the office of Governor occurring before the inauguration date of the first Lieutenant Governor (January 19, 2010), the Senate President will become Governor until a new Governor and Lieutenant Governor are elected and qualify. If there is no Senate President or the Senate President declines, the Speaker of the General Assembly will become Governor. When the Senate President or the Speaker, as the case may be, becomes Governor, the President's or Speaker's seat in the Legislature and leadership position will become vacant, to be filled as provided currently in the Constitution.

This amendment to the Constitution requires the Governor to appoint the Lieutenant Governor, without the advice and consent of the Senate, as the head of a State department or agency (but not as Attorney General), or to delegate gubernatorial duties to the Lieutenant Governor, or to do both. The Lieutenant Governor would also perform other duties as assigned by statute.

FISCAL IMPACT:

The Office of Management and Budget (OMB) estimated in relation to a similar concurrent resolution establishing an Office of Lieutenant Governor that there would be no fiscal impact. However, OMB noted that other states in the northeast have costs ranging from $450,000 to $800,000 for an Office of Lieutenant Governor with staffing of five to seven employees. The Office of Legislative Services notes that should the Governor decide, or subsequent statutes provide, for salary and staffing for the office of Lieutenant Governor that would be separate from that of the head of a State department or agency to which the Lieutenant Governor might be appointed as provided for by this concurrent resolution, there would be budgetary impact. However, those subsequent actions and their fiscal impact are not known at this time.

The Senate State Government Committee reports without recommendation Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 100.

BILL DESCRIPTION

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 100 of 2005 proposes a constitutional amendment to establish the Office of Lieutenant Governor and revise gubernatorial succession. The Lieutenant Governor would serve a four-year term concurrent with the term of Governor. The first Lieutenant Governor would be elected at the general election in 2009. This concurrent resolution permits the Governor to appoint the Lieutenant Governor to service as the head of a State department or agency or to perform other duties as assigned by the Governor, or both.

FISCAL ANALYSIS

EXECUTIVE BRANCH

None received.

OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE SERVICES

The Office of Legislative Services estimates that this concurrent resolution may have no fiscal impact. However, the Office of Legislative Services notes that a survey of northeastern states (Connecticut, Delaware, Pennsylvania and New York) indicates that costs of a Lieutenant Governor's office range from $450,000 to $800,000 with staffing ranges from five to seven employees. These costs do not include any election costs that may be incurred on the local level, such as ballot changes and other related election costs.

The Office of Legislative Services further notes that should the Governor decide, or should subsequent statutes provide for the establishment of a salary and staff for the Lieutenant Governor, separate from that of the head of the principal department to which the Lieutenant Governor may be appointed, there would be a budgetary impact. Such impact, however, would follow from subsequent actions and not necessarily from the constitutional amendment.
