KATHRYN FORSYTH

Governor Brendan Byrne today signed the following bills into law:

S-3016, sponsored by Senator Frank E. Rodgers (D-Hudson), which includes the entire town of Kearny within the Passaic Valley sewerage District.

Formerly, only portions of the town located along the Passaic River were included in the district, and the area of Kearny not within the district was served by an antiquated sewerage plant.

The bill is consistent with the recommendations of the Department of Environmental Protection's Northeast New Jersey Water Quality Management Plan.

S-3026, sponsored by Senator Joseph P. Merlino (D-Mercer), which directs school districts to test the hearing of each pupil under guidelines to be developed by the Department of Education in consultation with the Department of Health.

The bill also permits the hearing examination and general medical examination of pupils to be conducted by licensed medical and other health care personnel other than the medical examiner or the school nurse.

The measure is aimed at protecting pupils in school districts not currently conducting hearing tests, although the majority of districts are already testing pupils.

S-3071, sponsored by Senator Charles B. Yates (D-Burlington), which permits a child to be excused from portions of school classes with no penalties in terms of credits or graduation if the child's parent or guardian has signed a statement to the effect that that part of the instructions in health, family life education or sex education is in conflict with the parent's moral or religious beliefs.

The bill is entitled the "Parents Right to Conscience Act."

Under the measure, children whose parents or guardians objected would also be exempt from medical or physical examinations except as may be necessary to determine the existence of a physical handicap, the existence of a communicable disease or whether the child was under the influence of a narcotic drug.
