STATEMENT

This bill will allow a limited amount of U.S. Housing and Community Development Act funds to be spent by New Jersey municipalities to rehabilitate historic buildings owned by nonprofit corporations. Currently, there is no statutory authorization within New Jersey for such expenditure. HCDA funds have already been allocated for this purpose after an extensive Federal review process and public hearings, and are now in danger of lapsing unless specifically authorized by New Jersey statute. The expenditure of these funds will go toward rehabilitating designated historic structures, particularly in urban areas, which currently house social service programs and other nonprofit activities.
