An Act concerning unemployment compensation benefits and amending section 43:21-5 of the Revised Statutes.

1 BE IT ENACTED by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of

2 New Jersey:

1 1. Section 43:21-5 of the Revised Statutes is amended to read as 2 follows:

3 43:21–5. An individual shall be disqualified for benefits:

4 (a) For the week in which he has left work voluntarily without good cause attributable to such work, and for each week thereafter 5 until he has earned in employment (which may be with an employ-6 7 ing unit having in employment one or more individuals) at least 4 times his weekly benefit rate, as determined in each case; provided, 8 9 however, that no disqualification shall be applicable to a woman who left or was separated from her work solely by reason of her 10 pregnancy. 11

(b) For the week in which he has been finally discharged for 12misconduct connected with his work, and for the 5 weeks which 13immediately follow such week (in addition to the waiting period), 14 as determined in each case. In the event such discharge should be 15 rescinded by the employer voluntarily or as a result of mediation 16or arbitartion this subsection (b) shall not apply, provided, how-17ever, an individual who is restored to employment with back pay 18 shall return any benefits received under this chapter for any week 19 of unemployment for which he is subsequently compensated by his 20 21 employer.

EXPLANATION-Matter enclosed in bold-faced brackets [thus] in the above bill is not enacted and is intended to be omitted in the law.

22(c) If it is found that he has failed, without good cause, either to apply for available, suitable work when so directed by the em-23ployment office or the director or to accept suitable work when 24offered him, or to return to his customary self-employment (if any) 2526when so directed by the director. Such disqualification shall con-27tinue for the week in which such failure occurred and for the 3 28weeks which immediately follow such week (in addition to the 29waiting period), as determined:

(1) In determining whether or not any work is suitable for an individual, consideration shall be given to the degree of risk involved to his health, safety and morals, his physical fitness and prior training, his experience and prior earnings, his length of unemployment and prospects for securing local work in his customary occupation, and the distance of the available work from his residence.

37(2) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this chapter, no 38 work shall be deemed suitable and benefits shall not be denied 39 under this chapter to any otherwise eligible individual for 40 refusing to accept new work under any of the following conditions: (a) If the position offered is vacant due directly to a 41 42strike, lockout, or other labor dispute; (b) If the remuneration, 43hours, or other conditions of the work offered are substantially 44 less favorable to the individual than those prevailing for similar work in the locality; (c) If as a condition of being em-4546 ployed the individual would be required to join a company 47union or to resign from or refrain from joining any bona fide 48 labor organization.

(d) If it is found that his unemployment is due to a stoppage 49 of work [commencing on or after January 1, 1968] which exists 50because of a labor dispute [(other than a lockout)] at the factory, 5152establishment or other premises at which he is or was last employed and such disqualification shall continue only for the first 42 days 53thereof (in addition to the waiting period)]. [Benefits paid after 54said period of disqualification shall only be paid out of, and to the 55extent of, worker contributions to the Unemployment Trust Fund 56made during the calendar year preceding the calendar year in which 5758benefits are claimed; provided, however, that no benefits shall be paid under this subsection where the worker or workers unemployed 59by reason of such labor dispute, or their representatives, have 60 61 refused to voluntarily arbitrate the dispute or, in the alternative, have refused the services of a mediation agency of this State or the 62Federal Government to mediate the dispute, and further provided 63 64 that no benefits shall be paid under this subsection for any week of 65 unemployment unless the Commissioner of Labor and Industry 66 certifies that, during the week in question, representatives of the 67 worker or workers claiming benefits, either were bargaining in good 68 faith or were prepared to bargain in good faith to resolve the 69 dispute. No disqualification under this subsection shall apply if it 70 is shown that:

(1) He is not participating in or financing or directly interested in the labor dispute which caused the stoppage of work; and

(2) He does not belong to a grade or class of workers of 74 which, immediately before the commencement of the stoppage, 75 76 there were members employed at the premises at which the stoppage occurs, any of whom are participating in or financing 77 78 or directly interested in the dispute; provided, that if in any 79 case in which (1) or (2) above applies separate branches of work which are commonly conducted as separate businesses in 80 81 separate premises are conducted in separate departments of 82the same premises, each such department shall, for the pur-83 poses of this subsection, be deemed to be a separate factory, establishment, or other premises; 84

(e) For any week with respect to which he is receiving or hasreceived remuneration in lieu of notice.

(f) For any week with respect to which or a part of which he has received or is seeking unemployment benefits under an unemployment compensation law of any other State or of the United States; provided, that if the appropriate agency of such other State or of the United States finally determines that he is not entitled to such unemployment benefits, this disqualification shall not apply.

93 (g) (1) For a period of 17 weeks from the date of the discovery by the division of the illegal receipt of benefits contrary to the pro-94 visions of this chapter as the result of any false or fraudulent 95representation and his maximum total benefits shall be reduced by 96 an amount equal to 17 times his weekly benefit rate in the benefit 97 year in existence at the time of the discovery and in a benefit year 98 established within 1 year thereafter, but the maximum reduction 99 100 shall not exceed 17 times the weekly benefit rate; provided, that 101 any such disqualification may be appealed in the same manner as 102 any other disqualification imposed hereunder; and, provided 103 further, that a conviction in the courts of this State arising out of 104 the illegal receipt of such benefits in any proceeding instituted 105 against him, under the provisions of this chapter or any other law 106 of this State, shall be conclusive upon the appeals tribunal and the 107 board of review.

108 (2) A disqualification under this subsection shall not preclude 109 the prosecution of any civil, criminal or administrative action or 110 proceeding to enforce other provisions of this chapter for the 111 assessment and collection of penalties or the refund of any amounts 112 collected as benefits under the provisions of section 43:21-16 of the 113 Revised Statutes, or to enforce any other law where an individual 114 obtains or attempts to obtain by theft or robbery or false state-115 ments or representations any money from any fund created or 116 established under this chapter or any negotiable or nonnegotiable 117 instrument for the payment of money from such funds, or to recover 118 money erroneously or illegally obtained by an individual from any 119 fund created or established under this chapter.

1 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

STATEMENT

This proposed bill provides for the elimination from the Unemployment Compensation Law of those provisions which, as of January 1, 1968, permit compensation to workers under conditions not previously allowed.

Under the law now in effect workers unemployed due to a strike are eligible to receive full benefits after a 6-week waiting period. This act deletes this category of unemployment from the law entirely.

Additionally, the act would correct a dangerous imbalance presently existing in the procedures of free collective bargaining. By making this correction the State will once again permit employers and employees to negotiate without interference by the State in their efforts to achieve a satisfactory working contract.

With the aforementioned impediments removed the industrial climate of the State of New Jersey as well as the climate of labor will be visibly improved with its correlative advantages, such as increased jobs and increased tax revenues for the entire State. FROM: OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR FOR RELEASE: JANUARY 31, 1968 STATEMENT BY GOVERNOR RICHARD J. HUGHES ON SIGNING OF SENATE BILL 1

I have been presented with Senate Bill 1, which amends

the Unemployment Compensation Law so as to remove the provision permitting the payment of benefits to those on strike after a work stoppage has continued for more than six weeks, subject to certain safeguards. Except for the inclusion of a provision concerning "lockouts," which I shall mention later, this repealer leaves untouched other beneficial improvements contained in the Act adopted last year which, considered together, constituted a broad-scale updating of our Unemployment Compensation Law.

I have reflected carefully upon this bill and have decided to sign it.

In reaching this decision, I have given full and sympathetic consideration to the viewpoint of labor as well as that of the business community and, as should always be the case, to the interest of the larger public.

The inclusion of strike benefits in the bill adopted last vear caused in this State a certain polarization of views, sometimes strong and sharp in their expression, with regard not at all to the basic improvements in the Act, but to the single question of strike benefits. This dispute, and particularly the feelings of estrangement which accompanied it, should come to an end. Both labor and the business community, as well as the larger public to which I refer, have too much at stake in a prospering and progressive New Jersey to risk that progress in an unavailing stalemate. When the strike benefit clause was included last year, I favored such legislation in total concept because it seemed to me -and this is still my feeling -- to be not only correct in principle, but also in the best interest of the State. However, it was and is the sort of question upon which reasonable differences of opinion can exist and, moreover, can honestly exist.

This past Fall aaw an election in which the question of strike benefits seemed to be projected as a clear, even a dominant, issue. And I believe the people by their vote indicated in unmistakable terms their belief and desire that individuals on strike -- even with the safeguards provided by the Act -- should not be paid unemployment compensation. Under our system of governmental checks and balances, without abandoning in any way the responsibility of executive authority with regard to legislation, the existence of such an apparently overwnelming consensus must be persuasive in the just exercise of that authority.

I am aware that Senate Bill 1 inadvertently has rescinded the beneficial provisions of last year's Act as to "locked out" workers, whose unemployment is involuntary as it is in the case, for instance, of a worker laid off for economic reasons. However, I also recall the offrepeated statements of the majority leadership that the Legislature intends to study the Unemployment Compensation Law and correct any inequities. In view of these pledges, I am signing this bill with the expectation that this error with regard to "lockouts" will be corrected.
