STATEMENT

The commercial production of cultivated grass sod is a rapidly growing business in New Jersey, and some farms are being converted to this new enterprise. Sod growers, through the Cultivated Sod Association of New Jersey, Inc., have engaged in a voluntary program of producing certified grass sod under rigid requirements as a primary benefit to home owners and other buyers who wish this quality of produce. This is similar to the voluntary programs for certified agricultural seeds and tubers. The bill incorporates the sod certification activities within the present law.
